2. PROJECT PROFILE & BACKGROUND INFORMATION

1) Introduction

The Ministry of Home Affairs has conceptualized the Crime & Criminals Tracking Network and Systems (CCTNS) project as a Mission Mode Project under the National e- Governance Plan (NeGP). This is an effort of the Government of India to modernize the police force giving top priority to citizen services, information gathering, and its dissemination among various police organizations and units across the country.

2) Project Profile and Background

Availability of relevant and timely information is of utmost necessity in conduct of business by police, particularly in investigation of crime and in tracking & detection of criminals. Police organizations everywhere have been handling large amounts of information and huge volume of records pertaining to crime and criminals. Information Technology (IT) can play a very vital role in improving outcomes in the areas of Crime Investigation and Criminal Detection and other functioning of the Police organizations, by facilitating easy recording, retrieval, analysis and sharing of the pile of Information. Quick and timely information availability about different facets of police functions to the right functionaries can bring in a sea change both in Crime & Criminals handling and related operations, as well as administrative processes.

Creation and maintenance of databases on Crime & Criminals in digital form for sharing by all the stakeholders in the system is therefore very essential in order to effectively meet the challenges of crime control and maintenance of public order. In order to achieve this, all the states should meet a common minimum threshold in the use of IT, especially for crime & criminals related functions.

Several initiatives have been introduced in the past to leverage IT in police functioning. Some of these initiatives include centrally initiated programs such as the NCRB-led CCIS (Crime and Criminals Information System) and CIPA (Common Integrated Police Application), and State-led initiatives such as e-COPS (in Andhra Pradesh), Police IT (in Karnataka), Thana Tracking System (in West Bengal), CAARUS (in Tamil Nadu) and HD IITS (in Gujarat).

Presently automation in the area of Civil Police is addressed mainly through the two GOI-led initiatives – CCIS and CIPA and in some States such as Andhra Pradesh, Karnataka and Gujarat, through State- led initiatives.

3) Project Overview

The UPS was supplied in year 2017-18 at different location of Rajasthan, battery's warranty was for 3 years and thereafter it was not replaced due to administrative decisions. (The location list is mentioned in below Appendix A). Therefore department intends bidder to have a random check on the UPS working before bidding to know the status of the UPS and there after the bidder must repair/replace UPS wherever required, and then replace/dispose all faulty batteries through buy back method.

Since UPS is a critical equipment for all the IT infrastructure used in Police stations, CO Officers etc. Therefore, it is necessary to keep UPS up and running. Department intends to do tender for the AMC of UPS for 1 year, replacement of batteries with buy back of old batteries.
